postcolonial studies took shape in response to the nationalist and decolonization movements of the twentieth century today a resurgent interest in world literature reflects an increased awareness of globalization these twin projects are torn between a criticism that finds in the text the trace of capitalist modernity and one that accounts for the revolutionary potential of literature to challenge our global present postcolonialism after world literature exposes what is at stake in this critical choice through a line of philosophical enquiry bruno latour gilles deleuze and jacques rancière that poses an alternative to the materialist strand of world literary criticism pioneered by pascalle casanova and franco moretti engaging with these theorists and others lorna burns contests world systems theory as the basis for thinking about contemporary postcolonial and world literatures and proposes a renewed framework that promotes literature s capacity to provoke dissent to imagine new forms of belonging and relation for both national and world citizens and to stage the shared equality of all moving between theory and the novels of roberto bolaño j m coetzee kamel daoud dany laferrière pauline melville arundhati roy and kamila shamsie postcolonialism after world literature presents the case for rethinking world literature in light of the legacies of postcolonialism and for reshaping postcolonial studies in an era of world literature lorna burns is lecturer in postcolonial literatures at the university of st andrews uk she is the author of contemporary caribbean writing and deleuze bloomsbury 2012 seminar paper from the year 2006 in the subject english language and literature studies literature grade 2 00 university of göttingen seminar für englische philologie course multiethnic britain language english abstract 1 introduction 1 1 brief introduction to home and belonging as a general idea home has a significant function in our lives thinking of home we associate notions like shelter and comfort and when we come home we want to feel safe and welcome john mcLeod argues in this sense that to be at home is to occupy a location where we are welcome where we can be with people very much like ourselves 1 we are looking for who we are where we come from and try to find our place in life when one is born in a country but moves to another where is one s home country then this question is hard to answer because migration is always a process which implies a struggle of identities when the 2nd generation is born in the host country where do they belong if the host country does not accept them as full members the term home is highly complicated in a complex and multicultural world like ours 1 2 procedure and approach of my analyses i have centered my term paper on an attempt to identify and characterize the concepts of home and belonging in postcolonial literature comparing how the idea of home and belonging is presented in the novels white teeth by zadie smith and small island by andrea levy i have tried a text extrinsic approach furthermore i have analysed the authors intentions with regard to the time of publication and the time of the narrative however the main aspect of my analyses is which concepts of home and belonging exist and which of them can be found in the novels of my comparison i have chosen white teeth because it is a novel that deals with the colonial past and the postcolonial present and i have selected small island because it is a novel that deals with migration in the past small island is set at the beginning of migration when many colonized people came to england andrea levy presents different views the white and black british point of view at the beginning of migration my motivation to compare both novels is to go back to the beginning of colonial migration and to show the difference between the concepts from the past to the present 1 john mcLeod beginning postcolonialism manchester new york manchester university press 2000 p 210 2 zadie smith white teeth london penguin books 2001
